

News From the Prayer Path

Leanna Lindsey Hollis M.D. Director of Intercessory Prayer and Outreach

When friends in Jordan invited me to partner with them in the Middle East through prayer and collecting stories of God's faithfulness, I had no idea of the monumental impact God had planned. As always happens on short-term mission trips, God did something in me while He did something through me. We prayer-walked Ajloun, visited with small churches in three nearby cities, helped with English as second language classes at the Baptist school, and spent time with missionaries and locals alike. In the midst of that, God birthed a deeper love for the Middle East, a willingness to tackle learning Arabic, and showed me the beautiful love of the persecuted church for each other, their enemies, and our Lord.

Shopping in Ajloun

Missionaries and Masada

Intercession at Wailing Wall

Stories of God's Faithfulness from those who lived it

New believers born and old ones strengthened

Prayer walking Ajloun, Jordan

We saw with vivid clarity, the impact one man, one family, completely dedicated to Christ can make in a city, a region, a nation. We heard story after story of how, several decades ago, missionary doctors and their families had allowed the love of God to flow through them to their neighbors, both Christian and Muslim, and how it impacted lives for generations to come.

The stories are almost unbelievable. I'd love to share them in person with you, your church, or your small group. Email me to schedule a time.

In addition to three weeks serving in the Middle East, I've assisted with the Fellowship of Christian Students club at Tupelo's Alternative School, spoken at a women's small group in Belmont and at Harrisburg Baptist Church's Merry Makers group. I helped form a prayer group in Starkville, and hosted a "Jordan brunch" where I shared about my trip to the 30 people who attended.

Attending the twice yearly Physicians Resource Council meetings at Focus on the Family is an especially precious time of worship, refreshment, and renewed relationships with fellow physicians. This April an outstanding parent program was presented. We hope to implement it in our area soon.

The daily blog continues to reach people literally around the world (U.S., Brazil, France, Germany, Honduras, Hungary, Ireland, Jordan, Honduras, Philippines, Portugal, South Korea, Uganda, Ukraine, United Kingdom for starters) with more than 14,000 views per month.

Praying for missionaries and communicating with them on a daily basis also continues, as does the Untapped Power Grid Program. God is at work, but none of this would be possible without your partnership of prayer, hands-on help, and financial giving. Thank you for being a part!

Prayer needs: upcoming 1/2 day summer camp for alternative school students, wisdom for plans for upcoming women's prayer retreat in Sept. and plans/funds for return to Jordan to complete story-gathering/prayer in October.

Be sure to check out the blogs: leannahollis.blogspot.com and lessonsindiscipleship.blogspot.com

Email: lhollis@globaloutreach.org

Leanna joined Global Outreach Int'l as a peer-to-peer funded missionary in 2016, and is raising her own support. Please pray for sufficient financial provision to cover salary and ministry expenses.

You can help by donating online: globaloutreach.org or by mail (be sure to put act #4841 in your check "for" line at :

Global Outreach International, P. O. Box 1, Tupelo MS 38802

Thank you for your faithful partnership! GOI is an accredited member of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability.

