

Dear Friends,

Thank you for the support you've given to this ministry through your prayers, hands-on-assistance, and financial giving. The three weeks I spent in Jordan and Israel were among the most fruitful of my life. This is in lieu of a hand-written note so you can see a tiny part of the fruit we've shared.

I spent a week interceding with the Shows family (below), for the city of Ajloun, it's people, and their work of ministry. Prayers were answered almost before we prayed them. We realized our biggest job was to love, serve as witness to the mighty works of God, and document them to share with others.

The second part of my trip was spent assisting with a Global mission retreat at which I once again led in intercession and spent time with missionaries from around the world, listening and encouraging. We all left refreshed and better equipped to carry the Good News of Jesus Christ around the world.

Thank you for making this work possible.

Grace and peace,

Leanna

The Holy Sites

Because I had been to Jerusalem once before, I was able to assist our missionaries in visiting the significant sites in the life of Christ. Two of the most significant for me were the Western Wall (aka Wailing Wall) which I visited several times (above) and the Garden of Gethsemane (below).

March 2017

This building was built in 1928 in Ajloun, Jordan, as a home for Dr. McClain (a surgeon and founder of the hospital here) and his family. It may not look like much now, but the love of Christ flowed from here with such extravagance that the stories of grace are still remembered and repeated nearly 100 years later.

It was my home-away-from home in Jordan.

The Persecuted Church - Anjara, Jordan

We celebrated the love of Christ with this sweet group of believers. I went there to bless and pray for them, but I received the greatest blessing.

These brothers and sisters continue to pray for their non-Christian neighbors, continue to forgive, and continue to love despite ongoing, heartbreaking persecution. "Give us peace, Lord, and show us Your right way," they sang, and they meant it.

This small congregation was so encouraged that someone "from America" would come to love and pray for them.

Ajloun Baptist School

We spent a day in the Ajloun Baptist School where I taught the children (60% Muslim) about three special mothers and how the love of God worked through them. I was invited to pray, in the name of Jesus, for all the teachers, both in groups as well as individually. I also had the great joy of leading one of the teachers to Christ.
